T. C. C. Five Wins from C. A. C., 41 to 12-Referee too Limp. A good crowd turned out to witness the basketball game between the Connecticut agricultural college five from Storrs and the quintette representing the Thread City Cyclers Saturday evening in the new Armory hall on Vailley street.

The visitors had it on the local team The visitors had it on the local team is one way only and that was in weight. As far as general all around play was concerned there was nothing to it but Cyclers. The game was rather a slow and wearying exhibition. In justice to the visitors, however, it should be remembered that they have a small and cramped surface upon which to practice at home, and when meeting any team on a foreign floor are at a great disadvantage. The personnel of the college five was all right and with the right conditions for preparation for the interesting indoor sport would see a vast difference in the "aggles" play.

One thing that did more to hurt the game as it was played Saturday evening was the utter lack of interest taken by the referee. He apparently considered the contest nothing but a joke, and acted throughout accordingly, allowing the game to get away from him completely. Very few fouls were called, although it was far from being a foulless match, as all through were called, although it was far from being a foulless match, as all through the forty minutes of play practically everything barred by the rules was permitted to pass without any notice whatever.

Early in the first half the home team forged to the front and played rings around the college boys. At times the passing of the Cyclers was excentionally good, particulary the times the passing of the Cyclers was exceptionally good, particulary the manner in which Kelley and Wood worked together. Lyman was the high scorer, although Wood was a close second and a number of the former's shots were of that variety which can be classed as pure lucky ones only. Kelley was pitted against the heaviest man on the visitors' team and more than held his own. Card

BROKE THROUGH ICE. Charles Ladda Saved from Drowning by an Older Brother.

Sunday on the Willimantle river, in that portion known as the Eel Weir, back of the Brick row, boys were skaling around on the unsafe ice of the treacherous stream and some were sliding without skates. One of the latter, Charles Ladda, 2 or 10 years old, broke through the ice and had gone down for the third time just as a brother, Michael Ladda, about two years older, managed to pull him out of the water.

The younger lad was in a pretty of the water.

The younger lad was in a pretty bad way. He was carried to the home of friends in the Brick row and rolled and given restoratives and then wrapped in dry clothes. The boy was taken to his home in the Stone row, being carried down the railroad tracks. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ladda. The accident occurred about I o'clock Sunday afternoon, when most of the men in the vicinity were eating dinner.

The Uncas Power company, which is to furnish electricity for both power and lighting purposes for towns between the Scotland dam and Stafford, has completed much of the work with the exception of the placing of a few poles in places at the south of the city, all the rest of the poles having been set up and wires strung. The work has been under way since last July and it is expected that it will be completed by February 1.

Brockett Brothers, the most extensive sawmill firm doing business in these parts, recently purchased the rights to clean up a fine track of woodland off South street at the city line, and have a large force of men at work. The timber is mostly oak and the firm finds a ready market for it when sawed into proper dimensions.

Strike Delays Work on Federal Build-

Work on the new federal postoffice is practically at a standstill because of the failure of the quarrymen to ship the stone that is used in the construction of the edifice. The stone masons have packed their kits and left the city temporarily for other places. The de-lay is caused by the strike that is on friends in town Saturday and Sunat the quarries, and unless it is set-tled soon Contractor M. P. Wells will be hard pressed to finish the job on time. It is said that the stone work has yet to be constructed eleven feet higher and the greater portion of the remaining work cannot be started until the stone work is finished.

nade that hallways and cellars of bus-

For some time complaints have been made that hallways and collars of business blocks where there are tenements on the upper floors have been used as lodging quarters night by local and other vagrants, as well as by the class known as "bums." Complaints have also been lodged by some of the residents on the hill who have wide and coxy plazzas. Some of the cases have been attended to, and the culprits dealt with as they deserved.

The limit was reached Sunday morning when a tenant in the Nelson block, on Jackson street, notified the police department that a man had occupied the hallway of the landing on the second floor and left a lot of filth as a remembrance of his night's lodging. A certain rounder was suspected, corralled, taken to the police station and quazzed in genuine third degree manner. The person seen about the building by the wemen folks wore an overcoat, and this detail of dress let the suspect out, as he did not have such a requisite in his wardrobe. All the tenants in the block are up in arms, and it is intimated that the next bum who attempts to make the hallway a bunking place will meet with a decidedly warm reception. warm reception.
